CROKER OFF TO SARATOGA. COLER'S CHANCE OF DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION DOUBTFUL.

Croker Says Edward M. Shepard Is a Great Man-Too Much Municipal Ownership Doesn't Suit Eminent Democrats - Proposed State Ticket From Democratic Cities Solely.

The Hon. Richard Croker leader of Tammany Rall, the Hon. Arthur Pue Gorman of Maryland and Col. L. Victor Baughman, ex-Senator Gorman's chief lieutenant in Maryland, had lunch together yesterday at the Café Savarin. Mr. Gorman and Mr. Baughman were in New York to attend the directors' meeting of the timore and Ohio Railroad. Shortly after this luncheon broke up Mr. Croker departed for Saratoga. A little later at the Hoffman House Democrat who is in the confidence of Mr. | feated. Croker and ex-Senator David Bennett Hill

Even if Mr. Croker and Mr. Hill, for appearance sake, should get together, they ould not and would not favor the nomination of Comptroller Coler for Governor. Mr. Coler entertains views, political and economic, which are in opposition to those held by the leaders of the Democratic party of the State of New

This gentleman, who said he knew what he was talking about, said further:

Mr. Coler, like Mayor Jones of Toledo, be lieves in the ultra doctrines of municipal ownership of railroads, telegraphs, telephone companies and similar franchises. Mr. Coler and Mayor Jones of Toledo, who has that famous sucker-rod patent, are intimate and personal friends. Mayor McGuire of Syracuse, Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Comnittee has entertained Mayor Jones on a number of occasions at his home. It may be a little foggy at the moment, but rest assured that the erats who will control the State convenon will not nominate Mr. Coler, not because they fear that he would not make a good run Democratic candidate for Governor, but cause Mr. Coler's ideas are adverse to the 'vested interests' of the Democratic leaders. the 'vested interests' to Mr. Hill's attention emphatically within the last forty-eight hours. Mr. Croker, of course, has known it all along."

Ex-Senator Hill has been employed for the last six months as chief counsel in an effort to declare the Franchise Tax law unconstitutional and Mr. Hill is to make his final argument in October before the Court of Appeals. Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is interested as a stockholder, as he admits, in the patent Cotton Compress Trust along with John E. Searies, Jr., formerly of the great American Sugar Trust. A neat little story was told yesterday by a Democrat who was present and who heard everything that happened about the Hon. William J. Stone, ex-Governor of Missouri, the personal confidant of Bryan.

"A year ago last July," said this gentleman, "the Democratic National Committee met in Chicago. After the work of the committee had been finished Mr. Stone and Mr. Bryan and others of importance on the occasion were trivited to attend the opening of the new Chi-This has been brought to Mr. Hill's attention Chicago. After the work of the cocasion were invited to attend the opening of the new Chicago canal. The Hon. Buck Hinrichson, chief lieutenant for ex-Gov. Altgeld, was present on that occasion. Mr. Hinrichson's pockets were bulging out with tramway passes and telephone franks and telegraph passes and railroad passes. Ex-Gov. Stone saw these gilt-edged privileges of corporations and he asked Buck to get him a pass from Chicago back to St. Louis. A Democrat who was present said to Mr. Stone: 'You wouldn't take a pass from a corporation, would you?' and ex-Gov. Stone of Missouri replied: 'Wouldn't I, though? Just try me."

of Missouri replied: Wouldn't I, though? Just try me.

Mr. Murphy was in town yesterday and he and Mr. Croker found time to have a few words together before Mr. Croker went to Saratoga. Mr. Croker wants everything done to strengthen the Tammany Hall organization for the fight for Mayor in New York city next year. He does not propose to Chairman McGuire of the Democratic State Executive Committee. As a matter of fact he believes, so his friends said last night, that Mayor McGuire should have opened his headquarters in Albany or Syracuse or some other city than New York. Mayor McGuire has given all of the printing contracts for the State Committee to printers in Syracuse, and has deposited the small funds at his command in Syracuse banks. The only man who can raise any money for the Democratic State ticket is Mr. Croker, and he has already told Mayor McGuire, it is stated, that those interested in the State ticket should be ready to raise their own campaign fund. The advisers of Mr. Croker have gone so far as to urge that Inasmuch as he and his friends are in control of the Democratic State Convention, the entire Democratic State ticket should be taken from the cities of the State, which are, in a majority of instances, controlled by Democratic Mayors. In a word, Mr. Croker by Democratic State which are, in a majority of instances, controlled by Democratic Mayors. In a word, Mr. Croker should be taken from the cities of the State, which are, in a majority of instances, controlled by Democratic Mayors. In a word, Mr. Croker has been advised to nominate Democratic candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller, State Treasurer, Attorney-General and State Engineer and Surveyor from New York, Troy, Syracuse, Buffalo and other cities having Democratic Mayors, forsaking the entire Democratic vote of the interior counties, outside of the cities, entirely.

of the interior counties, outside of the cities, entirely.

Mr. Croker told his friends before he left for Saratoga yesterday that he intended to have 300 orators spouting day and night in New York city during the campaign. In the first Cleveland Administration Mr. Croker, as leader of Tammany Hall, was not considered as some of his friends believed he should have been. Hubert O. Thompson, head of the County Democracy, was the favorite. In reply to all who advised him that he should make a protest to Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Croker replied.

"I am quite satisfied that Tammany Hall can get along with the patronage of New York city."

Mayor McGuire departed for Normandie-by-the-Sea last night to see Mr. Hill. Before leaving town he was asked what he thought of Comptroller Coler's anti-Ramapo platform, Mayor McGuire didn't seem to know what Ramapo was, for he asked the question. "What is Ramapo?"

Mayor McGuire was told that Comptroller

Ramapo was, for he asked the question.

"What is Ramapo?"
Mayor McGuire was told that Comptroller Coler believed that the Ramapo Company's plans extended to many counties in the State.

"In that case," Mayor McGuire replied, "Ramapo would become a legitimate State issue, it would be practical municipal ownership. The sentiment for municipal ownership, the sentiment for municipal ownership is very strong up the State and it is growing. It is growing without regard to party lines, if the present Franchise Tax law is declared constitutional there will be a marked change in the attitude of the corporations. They can't pay the tax and pay dividends too on their present capitalization."

A number of Democrats close to Mr. Croker last night were talking of the nomination for Governor of Edward M. Shepard of Brooklyn. Mr. Croker has told his friends that Mr. Shepard is a great man and a worthy citizen. Mr. Shepard twas a Gold Democrat in 1896 and is a member of the law firm of Parsons, Shepard & Ogden, who drew the corporation papers for the Sugar Trust. Mr. Shepard and Mr. Hill have not been political friends for a few years.

SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—Richard Croker arrived to-night on the limited train from New York. He was met at the station by Fire Commissioner John J. Scannell, who recently arose from a sick bed, and by Senator Thomas F. Grady and driven to "Chateau Ophelia," Mr. Scannell's summer residence, where he will spend the greater part of the month of August. Mr. Croker will attend the races and consult with the Tammany men at the Spa until after the meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

WHEN GRUBER WILL TURN DEMOCRAT Four Years From Now if Expansion Is Not

Justified by Its Fruits. The Morningside Republican Club of the Twenty-first Assembly district held a lively meeting last night at its headquarters, 405 Manhattan avenue. Joseph M. Troskauer, a Columbia student, made a speech in which he said that he was born in the South and had come to this city a Democrat, but that he intended to vote the Republican ticket. William S. Bennett, chairman of the Campaign Committee, also made an address. Then Abraham Gruber as o made an address. Then Abraham Gruber stoke. He said that the same journals that had raised a hue and cry against McKinley for not declaring war with Spain soon enough to suit them were now yelling about imperialism. "So firm am I in the conviction that expansion is the proper thing," he added, "that I will make this promise. If, during the next four years of McKinley's administration, expansion does not rove to be a necessity for trade, and if the Filipinos do not get all the rights that are If the Filipinos do not get all the rights that are coming to them, I will make Democratic speeches in the election in 1901. I am a mighty goo! Republican and I don't think that there is much danger."

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 2.-Former State Senator Timothy J. Howard was nominated for Congress to-day by the Democrats of the First New Hampshire district. The Kansas City platform was reaffirmed. Senator Howard a hative of this city, 38 years old, and a lawyer by profession.

Democrats Carry Chattanooga.

CHATTANDOGA, Tenn., Aug. 2.—The county election here to-day resulted in a complete victory for the Democrats, by majorities ranging from 500 to 2,000. Local politics dominated the election and the result by no means foreshadows the outcome of the Presidential contest in this county.

GOLD DEMOCRATS FOR M'KINLEY. Tregsurer Frenzel of the National Committee

Reports on His Visit East. Indianapolis, Aug. 2.-John P. Frenzel, Treasurer of the National Gold Standard Committee, returned to-day from a v sit to the East where he has been in consultation with leading Gold Democrats regarding the organization and the best means of keeping it up in the absence of national candidates. He reports conferences with many leading Gold Democrats in a number of Eastern cities and declares that they are as determined in their opposition to free silver as they were in 1896. "The Gold Democrats of the East," he said, "are pleased with the action taken here, and I found that they are opposed to any kind of a third ticket, and that they feel that above everything else Bryan must be de-

When asked if he believed from his observations in the East that the gold men are as strong as they were four years ago, he replied: "Of course, there are a few exceptions that are being widely published by Democratic papers, but I found that the Gold Democrats were lined up as they were before. There has been no change of sentiment. The gold men are as bitter against Bryan as they were four years ago. If anything, the sentiment in the East is more bitter against Bryan now than it was at this time in the campaign four years ago. I don't think there is any doubt but that the East will give as large or even a larger majority than it did before."

REED CANNOT TAKE THE STUMP. Lodge and Grosvenor Will Go to Maine-Durbin Has No Fears for Indiana. All of the Republican national campaigners at headquarters, 1 Madison avenue, were madaware yesterday that the Hon. Thomas Brackett Reed of New York city could not find it convenient to take the stump for McKinley and Roosevelt in Vermont or Maine at the approaching elections in those two hide-bound Republican Commonwealths. Chairman Hanna was fully aware of the situation. Mr. Reed is a pretty busy man nowadays. The Hon. John Barrett, formerly Minister t Siam under President Cleveland, was at headquarters for a few moments yesterday. Mr. Barrett has been credited with starting the story that Mr. Reed was to stump in Vermont and Maine for McKinley and Roosevelt. Mr. Barrett had a long talk with Chairman Hanna yesterday. Later on Mr. Barrett issued the following statement:

lowing statement:

"In view of the prominence given the matter and in justice to Speaker Reed and myself I would say that I have made no statement anywhere to any one to the effect that I had assurances that Mr. Reed would speak during the campaign in Maine or elsewhere. How any such report could have originated, or why I should have been made the medium of an alleged expression of Speaker Reed's intentions I cannot possibly understand. I have not even the honor of a personal acquaintance with the distinguished statesman. The only reference I have made to him is that I hoped he would participate in the Vermont and Maine campaign in which I have been invited to take part. Senator Scott, head of the Speakers' Bureau has received very cordial letters from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Representative Charles Henry Grosvenor of Ohlo, saying that they would gladly take she stump for McKinley and Roosevelt in Maine.

One of the visitors at Republican national headquarters yesterday was the Hon. Winfield T. Durbin of Indiana. Mr. Durbin is one of the most influential Republicans in the Hoosier State. He had a long talk with Chairyman Hanna and with the other national campaigners, and declared that the Republican organizers that Indiana has had in many years. He told Chairman Hanna of the preliminary work that is going on to get Indiana into good shape Mr. Durbin had no fears for Indiana. A bet was heard last night of $500 even that Indiana would go Democratic this fall. It should be said, however, that the bet was made by a Democrat who in past years has been known to have "wheels." He always loses his money. He is a person of no consequence whatever, except that he did make the bet. "In view of the prominence given the matter

Among those who attended the Republican club's outing yesterday were a score of Tammany officeholders and a crowd of policemen from the Eldridge street station. Just before the excursionists boarded the steamboat Chancellor one of the leading members of the Tammany Hall organization of "de ate" posted himself near the gangplank and shouted:

"Every one of youse fellers who are Democrats and go on this outing to-day better look out or you will be cut. Every one of youse names is going to be taken down. Youse be a nice gang of Democrats, aint ypuse?" He pulled a sheet of paper from his pocket and wrote something on it. He was laughed at and guyed unmercifully. One policeman shouted out to him:

Among those who went along were former Assistant District Attorney Rosalsky, the Hon. On their return to New York late last night the excursionists paraded around the East Side and were greeted with displays of fireworks. It was noticeable that many shops were decorated. On account of the feeling against Bryanism on the lower East Side the business men are enrolling themselves this year in the Reare enrolling themselves this year in the Republican organization.

REPUBLICANS WONT CONSULT COLER. Don't Need His Suggestions About a Platform, Says Chairman Odell.

The Hon. Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., Chairman of the Republican State Committee, did a rushing business in the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday from 80'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening, and then departed for the Oriental Hotel, Coney Island. Before leaving town Chairman Odell was asked if the Republican Chairman Oden was asked in the Republican State Convention would comply with the idea of Comptroller Coler, and insert a plank in its platform declaring against the Ramapo Water Company. Mr. Odell replied:

"The Republican party will name its candidates, conduct its campaign, and elect its ticket—in fact, do everything that it has to do in the coming contest—without any heip from the coming contest—without any heip from ticket—in fact, do everything that it has to do in the coming contest—without any help from Mr. Coler. It does not need or desire any of his suggestions or assistance."

Chairman Odell was reminded that Comptroller Coler spoke as a Democrat, and that he had made his suggestion concerning the plank in opposition to the Ramapo Water Company, not only for the benefit of the Democratic party, but also of the Republican party.

That's right, responded Mr. Odell, 'let the Democrate put Mr. Coler upon a pedestal and put a halo around his head as soon as they want to. Mr. Coler is the only man that ever tried to have the Republican Legislature stamp him as the only honest man in the State of New York. They didn't do it, for they wanted purer gold before they stamped it."

METHODISTS NOT AGAINST M'KINLEY.

Will Not Affect the Voting. Boston, Aug. 2.-A despatch from New York was printed here to-day saying that campaign documents denouncing the McKinley Adminis- | J. tration for its attitude toward the "army canteen" were being circulated among temperance societies and church organizations for distribution where they would do the most good. The despatch also said that "one of the most important factors in the distribution plan would be the societies connected with the Methodist Eniscopal Church to which President McKinley himself belongs." The despatch added:

"It is with full knowedge of the number of Methodists who will be guided by it that Comptroller Coler (Democratic) on Monday based his statement that the Prohibitionist candidate in New York would poil 10,,000 votes in New York State this fail."

KEEPING BRYAN QUIET. CHAIRMAN JONES DOESN'T WANT HIM

TO MAKE MANY SPEECHES. Plans Changed So That After His Speech a

the Notification Ceremonies He Wont Take the Stump Until Aug. 30—The Proposed Tour of Ohio and Indiana Abandoned. LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 2.-A very radical change in Mr. Bryan's plans was announced to-day. There will be no speech-making by him after the Indianapolis notification until Aug. 80, when he talks to the old soldiers at the National Encampment of the Grand Army at Chicago. He said to-day that he would go direct from Indianapolis to Chicago, and remain there two or possibly three days. Then he would return to Lincoln, to remain until Aug. 29. No reason was given for the change from previous plans, which contemplated a short speech-making tour of Ohio and Indiana, and a leisurely return home, with a few speecher along the way. The explanation doubtless lies in the fact that these were Mr. Bryan's ideas about what he should do on the trip, but that they did not coincide with those of Chairman Jones and the other campaign managers. It has been rather strongly hinted from time to time that Jones has insisted upon Mr. Bryan keeping off the stump, at least during the earlier part of the campaign. He is ss well aware that he will not be able to keep Mr. Bryan quiet during the entire campaign, but he wants to guard against the harm that he bluffly insists comes from too much talking by the candidate at that period of the campaign when some word or phrase or sentiment can be taken up by the opposition and turned against him.

Mr. Bryan has insisted with emphasis tha the National Committee has been making his plans for him and will continue to do so. He has constantly striven to make it apparent that this time he would throw all the labor and all the responsibility of that character upon his advisers, and he will make no protests, at least for publication. He does not expect that any attempt will be made to have delegations of supporters call on him here. After Labor Day, when he will talk in Chicago, he hopes to be able to take a trip to the East to personally investigate the progress of the campaign; but it is doubtful if any speeches will be made then, although several strong appeals have come from New York.

Mrs. Bryan is not taking the prominent part in political matters that she did four years ago. Her interest in and her sympathy with her hus-band's ambitions and plans are strong as ever, but she seems to be content to remain in the tends to part of his correspondence, but Mr. Bryan is left to his private talks and confidences with his visitors. She will accompany him, however, to Indianapolis.

Mr. Bryan's declaration of yesterday as to the income tax does not seem to be understood. He was told by several correspondents to-day that their papers had wired them to find out positively whether or not he proposed dropping the income tax altogether. He answered by repeating his statement of yesterday that he would not discuss it in his notification speech, but would deal with it in his letter of acceptance. He will not drop it.

The programme for the march upon Indianapolis is about complete. Mr Bryan leaves here on Monday evening next at 6 o'clock. He reaches Chicago on Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. He will be met by uniformed campaign clubs and escorted to the Sherman House. There he is to be joined by Mr. Stevenson, and together they will shake the hands of the waiting thousands. A luncheon at the Iroquois Club will follow, and at 2 o'clock the Presidential and Vice-Presidential nominees, with their campaign advisers, will board a special train for Indianapolis. There there will be receptions and handshakings until Wednesday afternoon, when the ceremonles begin. The next morning the party will return to Chicago. Mr. Bryan wants to find out all about how the campaign is to be run, and will spend several days at headcuarters.

Then he will come back home and proceed with his literary labors. These consist of his letter of acceptance, which is partly written, and his speeches for the Populists and place for which, he says, have not yet been fixed.

Mr. Bryan seems to be having some trouble.

Visitors to the Bryan house have been disappointed at not getting a look at "Bryan's Jap," the young Oriental who came here two years ago to sit at the feet of Mr. Bryan and learn political wisdom sufficient to fit him to become a political leader in Japan. The fact is that Yama, as he is called—Y. Yamaschita is his name—seems to have been practically abandoned by his foster father. Yama is 24 years old, and when he first came insisted so strenuously upon being taken in that his request was granted. He remained, doing duty as a house servant at odd hours and attending the State University, until last fall. When the Bryans went to Texas he was placed in a neighbor's family. Since the campaign began there has been no room for Yama, and Mr. Bryan has been paying his board with a family in a remote part of the city. Yama is as ambitious as ever, but his progress has been disappointing. His history instructor gave him up as hopeless. He cannot speak English well, but can read it. He says he finds it bewildering to attempt to follow American politics, but he is hoping Bryan will win.

Foundations of the Republic in Danger -Sixth District Safe, Though.

As soon as the Hon. Timothy Dry Dollar Sullivan, member of the State Senate and Tammany leader in the Sixth Assembly district, read the invitation, President William R. Bryan Clubs of Kansas Women.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 2.- The Fusionists of Kansas are planning to organize Bryan clubs for women in every school district in the State. Mrs. Anna Diggs, who stampeded the recent State Fusion Convention, is leading in this novel plan.

GARRY WOULD FIGHT STILL. But He Would Not Identify McClusky as the Man Who Stabbed Him. Charles Garry, who was stabbed in the arm and the throat on Wednesday night in the course of the festivities incident to the opening of his brother's saloonatThirty-third street and Second avenue, and was taken to Bellevue Hospital in so weak a condition that it was thought his case was hopeless, is likely to recover. His assailant, Joseph McClusky, who has a long record of stabbings and vicious assaults, and whose picture adorns the rogues' gallery, is held pending the result of Garry's injuries. McClusky, after his arrest, was taken before Garry for identification. The wounded man was unconscious at the time, but was roused by stimulants. As soon as he saw McClusky before him he rose up in his bed and made a feeble effort to strike him, but posisaw McClusky before him he rose up in his bed and made a feeble effort to strike him, but positively refused to identify him for the police, although he said after the police were gone that McClusky was the man who cut him.

McClusky, who has the distinction of belonging to the "Slimy Back" gang, was not in at the swell end of the Garry saloon opening. He only came in for the free beer that was distributed to the masses. The swell set, consisting of the proprietor's friends, held them selves haughtily apart from the free beer rabble and drank wine at a table. McClusky thought this was undemocratic and shoved himself into the wine set and demanded "bottle goods" instead of "keg goods." It isn't so much what you want as what you get at these opening functions, and what McClusky got was a punch in the stomach.

Trouble was among the things he had counted on as among the possibilities when he pushed himself in among the wine set. When he got the trouble suddenly, he pulled out a long hunting knife and went in to enjoy himself. It came to a rough-and-tumble fight between the wine push and the beer push. It was Proprietor Garry's brother who punched McClusky and it was Proprietor Garry's brother who McClusky set out to carve in the mix up. He had only succeeded in cutting Garry in the arm, until, just as McClusky was being supported by two companions on his walk to Bellevue, Garry told a policeman who asked what was the matter that he had fallen into a plate glass window.

It is predicted that when Garry gets well, if he does get out, that there will be another fight. Gang etiquette does not permit referring these little matters to the courts. McClusky was identified as the man who stabbed Policeman John Sheridan in 1897 at the same corner where the fight with Garry took place.

Mr Bury told a friend that he wanted no doctor, saying: "I am perfectly competent to exercise my powers to overcome disease. I do not desire any different treatment." Cheston said yesterday that he had been with his friend from the time he was taken sick until his death. "I knew what the trouble was the moment I looked at him," he said. "Bury told me that he knew that no doctor could save him if Christian Science could not. I brought him through a severe case of illness last year. In November he thought he was going to have Bright's disease, but I destroyed it and he got perfectly well. He directed me to act as I thought best and as a friend I said that I would do the best I could for him. The minute that the doctor came he died."

Mr. Mercer would not admit it, but others were frank enough to acknowledge that this was practically a declaration for Bryan and the Chicago platform.

KEAHON MEN IN CONTROL. TOOK LEADER BOYLE'S COMMITTEE MEETING AWAY FROM HIM.

Passed a Resolution Denouncing Him, Which His Chairman Wouldn't Put, and Another Resolution Calling for an Investigation the Committee's Accounts-Noisy Meeting

Ex-Alderman Patrick H. Keahon and his friends went to the meeting of the Tammany Hall General Committee of the Seventh Assembly out of the hands of East River Bridge Commis sioner James W. Boyle, the leader, whom they are fighting. When Mr. Boyle called the meeting he gave notice that admission would be by ticket only. The Keahonites expected to be locked out and prepared to hold an out-door meeting. Mr. Boyle, however, made no attempt to exclude them, and at 8 o'clock they had posession of the meeting rooms at 240 West Fourteenth street. Mr. Boyle called the committee to order and announced that City Magistrate Hogan would preside. Judge Hogan is not an officer of the committee

"He hasn't any right to preside," yelled the Keahonites. "He ain't a vice-chairman. Let Boyle preside. Put him out!" Judge Hogan paid no attention to the yells.

C. C. Milnor, a Boyle man, introduced a Bryan resolution, which was adopted unanimously. As soon as this was done John H. Little, one of the strongest Keahon men in the district,introduced a long resolution in which the meth-of the strongest Keahon men in the district, introduced a long resolution in which the methods of Mr. Boyle as leader were denounced as "audacious, unjust and arbitrary." The resolution accused Mr. Boyle of using the organization for private gain, and demanded his immediate resignation and the election of Mr. Keahon as his successor.

The reading of the resolution took some time. When it was about half over, Judge Hogan began to tap lightly with his gavel. He continued to tap as the reading progressed, but Mr. Little paid no attention to the interruption and Judge Hogan did not attempt to stop him.

When the reading was finished, Judge Hogan declared the motion out of order and Mr. Little appealed from his decision, and Judge Hogan declared that an appeal was out of order.

Then the Keahonites cut loose. They asked Judge Hogan what right he had to be in the chair anyhow, and why he was interested in the fight. Mr. Little made a speech in which he said that Judge Hogan as a lawyer and a parliamentarian knew that the resolution was a proper one, and that in any event he had no right to refuse to put an appeal. Judge Hogan still refused to put the appeal.

Then the Keahonites yelled for John P. Hilly, the first vice-chairman of the committee, who is a Keahon man and who was in the meeting. They demanded that Hilly preside and put the appeal. Mr. Hilly stood up in the body of the hall and put the appeal. All the Keahonites voted to sustain it. Then Mr. Little asked Judge Hogan to put the question on the anti-Boyle resolutions. Judge Hogan refused and Mr. Hilly again took the meeting into his hands and the resolution was adopted.

Another Keahonites introduced a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the accounts of the organization during Mr. Boyle's leadership. Judge Hogan refused to put the question on this and Mr. Hilly again took the meeting had no work to do, for the crowd was very orderly

After the Keahonites had departed Mr. Boyle's friends held a meeting had no work to do, for

Thus it combines in ONE SOAP at ONE PRICE, viz., TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, the BEST skin and complexion soap and the BEST toilet and BEST baby soap in the world.

DRINKING EVIL EXAGGERATED.

Objects to the Teaching There.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2.-It is asserted that the Board of Education of Cincinnati has been imposed upon by too earnest advocates of temperance or by outright prohibitionists. Dr. B. F. Lyle of the Board of Education's Committee on Text Books spent to-day in examining the charts and manikins in use in the public schools purporting to show the effects of alcoholic drinks on the stomach, liver and kidneys. Dr. Lyle, who is a total abstainer, says the manikins and charts are gross exaggerations or absolutely untrue. He said:

"Drinking does not produce any such condition of these organs as the manikins show. No ulcers are formed and no such horrible condition develops. The only chart that is in any way correct is the one showing the stomach of a moderate drinker. In this the blood vessels show congestion, but the same congestion would be found after a heavy meal."

Dr. Lyle will bring the matter to the immediate attention of the Board of Education. In speaking of drinking Dr. Lyle says:

"Two ounces of whiskey a day will not hurt any one. Neither will it do one any good." Committee on Text Books spent to-day in ex-
